Dear parents,

It was a honour and a privilege to be at Sunday's remembrance service in the square at Fair Oak,with so many members of the local community. I was especially pleased to see so many students taking part, either as members of uniformed originations, the church or playing the trumpet. As ever, we also observed two minutes of silence in college - on Monday to reflect on the lives and deaths of those who have served our country in the armed forces.

This week we have welcomed the police into college to talk to students about knife crime. It was an opportunity for students to ask questions about this topic directly to the police directly. In addition, students have had an assembly this on this topic, which answered the questions they generated for the assembly last week. I thought it would be useful to share with you the key messages we have given them:

What the law says

It is against the law to carry a knife into a public place if the blade is more than three inches long or the knife locks into an open position. It is against the law to have types of blades which have been made to specifically harm and injure others e.g. machetes, zombie knives, daggers, flick knives and butterfly knives. It is against the law to have an offensive weapon. An offensive weapon can be:

A. Items that are made for the purpose of causing injury and have no other practical purpose in the normal world.

- 2. Items that are adapted or altered in some way for the purpose of causing injury. Examples are sharpened screwdrivers, smashing a bottle to make the broken end into a weapon for causing injury.
- 3. Items that are not specifically made or adapted to cause injury but are carried for that purpose. Examples of blades include sharp scissors, a razor but almost any item can be considered to be an offensive weapon if the person carrying the item intends to use it to cause injury.

Carrying an object with the intention to cause harm does include carrying it in self defence, with the intention to protect themselves if attacked.

Additional rules at Wyvern

Clearly any student breaking the law on knives and offensive weapons will be sanctioned proportionally and reported to the police.

However, we also have a ban on other, legal items.

It is not against the law to take a multi-tool device with a short blade on it into a public place or a pen knife into a public place as long as these blades are less than three inches long and do not lock into position. Such devices are used in crafts, outdoor education, certain sports like fishing and sailing, bushcraft and other activities. Clearly, if people carry these with the intention to cause harm or to threaten people then they become an offensive weapon which is against the law.

Under no circumstances should these items be brought into college. There will never be an activity at school which requires students to use these items for their intended purpose and therefore anyone who chooses to bring them in will have done so for a reason which is inappropriate.

Reasons and circumstances for carrying knives

We know that most people who do carry knives into a public place do so for aggressive or threatening reasons: to make other people afraid; to make people fear or respect them; to help them commit a crime like stealing from a shop, or from a person the street; because they have planned a fight and feel that a weapon will back them u; because they are drug dealing and want to be able to defend themselves and stop others stealing their drugs and money.

However, self-defence is the most common reason given by people who carry a knife. If they have been a victim of bullying, or street crime or generally fear for their own personal safety, they might consider ways to make themself feel less vulnerable. But, self-defence or self-protection are not valid reasons for carrying a knife or offensive weapon, and this choice could have serious consequences for that person, including serious or fatal injury. 7 out of 10 people who end up in hospital with a knife injury were stabbed with their own knife.

How common is knife crime?

Every nine days a teenager in the UK is stabbed. But this happens far more in some parts of the UK than in others. Knives are the UK's number one murder weapon, but murder is still very rare. There is an increase in the number of people carrying knives but 96% of teenagers across the UK have never carried a knife. We know that knife crime happens more in some places than in others. It is most likely to happen in places where there are rival gangs who are in conflict with each other. It's more likely to happen where lots of people carry knives because this makes others fear they might get stabbed and so they carry one to defend themselves just in case. We also know that knives are more likely to be used in certain circumstances: when drugs are being sold; when shops are being robbed; when planned fights are due to take place; when groups of people confront or insult other groups of people; when people are drunk or under the influence of drugs; when people are out in the street late at night. By avoiding these times and situations, students make it very unlikely that they will be caught up in knife crime. By avoiding these behaviours and situations, they keep themselves safe. It is extremely rare that someone will just randomly attack a total stranger.

Reporting information you know about knives.

We have told the students that if they've heard or seen anything that makes them believe someone has a knife on them or is going to have one, then they need to report this. They can tell you, their parents and carers and I've sent you information on how to talk to your child about knives. They can tell any trusted adult at Wyvern. They can report it anonymously to the police using the crime stopper website. They don't have to leave their name or contact details. The police can stop and search anyone at any time where they have information that they might have a knife. It's everyone's responsibility to give the police the information they need to stop people carrying knives.

With best wishes Mr Rule

YEAR 7 NOTICES

In a blink on an eye the first half term and holiday is over and what a first half term it has been.

I am so immensely proud of just how well Year 7 have emersed themselves into life at Wyvern College. During the last week before the break, I spent a whole day with the year group - popping in and out of as many lessons as I could, wandering the site during breaks and spending time with as many children as I could. I was blown away by the exemplary behaviour both in lessons and around the school buildings. I was delighted to see how engaged and focused the pupils were in lessons and that the work being produced was of a very good standard.

It was really lovely that pupils were keen to share with me what they had been working on and were eager to show me their work. I was also very privileged to be able to hear the year group sing with such enthusiasm during an assembly and to witness real examples of sporting talent during PE lessons. It really was an uplifting and special day and one which made me very proud of each and every pupil - they are a real credit to yourselves and asset to the year group.

I would like to praise the following three pupils for their efforts last half term as they are currently holding the top three spots for highest number of achievement points. Well done and keep up the good work to Jemima (7C1), Niamh (7P2) and Mouadh (7D2).

YEAR 8 NOTICES

Here we are at the end of our second week back already. Wyvern students have had House Assemblies this week which have been great fun. Do ask them what they did – I am not sure the projector has survived Thursday's assembly!

Just a note about logbooks that I would really appreciate your support with. Wyvern provides a logbook to every student in the college at the start of the year and it is their responsibility to look after it and remember to bring it to college every day. We cannot afford to buy an infinite number of logbooks as they're costly to produce and we don't want to waste money ordering far more than are needed. There have been an increasing number of Y8s coming to my office asking to buy a new logbook. Most of the time the logbook is found at home in a teenage bedroom, lurking underneath a pile of clothes strewn across the floor (well in my house that is the case, but I am not meaning to judge any of you by my own terrible standards). Sometimes it has been left in a classroom so I will always ask that tutors email class teachers to check their desks and that students have a really good look at home before I permit buying a new one. When a new one is purchased, one of the permission pages to leave a lesson will be removed. Repeatedly losing a logbook will result in sanctions.

OK so onto happier things. Y8 will have their Christmas celebration assembly in a few weeks so if any parent is willing and able to make a donation to this event, we would really appreciate it. I understand it is a very expensive time of year so anything would be gratefully received whether a voucher, a chocolate gift or indeed something that you know your child would enjoy. Please just ask students to bring donations to the year office.

Congratulations to H1 again for earning the highest number of P1s last week (513) closely followed by H2 (502) and in third place P2 (500). The leaderboard for students last week is as follows Seren H1 in first place with 42 P1s, Steph from G1 with 36 and in JOINT third place Jack from P2 and Evelyn from G2 with 35 points each - well done to you all!

YEAR 9 NOTICES

Parents Evening 20th November 2024 – please note that booking for Open Evening is open and will close on 19th November 23.55 pm. Please refer to the email sent to parents/carers with how to book your slots.

Last Thursday we held the first celebration breakfasts of the school year, to recognise those students who have achieved outstanding PRIDE scores. These events are to praise those students who consistently show all of the elements of our PRIDE ethos in lessons, at extra-curricular clubs/events and in their home-learning. It is great chance to catch up with those students and give them the opportunity to be recognise for their good work. We held two events at Thursday registration in the Hall and in T6, where students met, sat and chatted and thanked publicly by staff running the events, as well as being served breakfast.

The Year 9 students who attended all had very similar stories to tell about the recipe for their success; what they did to achieve their super PRIDE scores.

- Don't be afraid to get things wrong (try hard but accept that you'll make mistakes).
- Get involved in activities outside lessons (sport, DofE, music, drama, or anything else you can).
- Be organised when it comes to doing homework (create a weekly schedule).
- · Listen and focus in lessons.
- Don't just follow your friends (be true to yourself).

These are wise words from some amazing Year 9 students, and well worth sharing with everyone.
